Lassiter Named Candidate for Sheriff By Republican County Committee

James Lassiter, Bethel, was nominated Monday night by the Oxford County Republican Committee as candidate for the office of Sheriff of Oxford County, to be voted for at the September 13 election.

Lassiter is retired from the U. S. Army (May 31, 1930, as Major), a veteran in prison work while in the Armed Forces, has Counter Intelligence Corps experience, is a combat veteran, a pistol expert marksman, and has served as a judge in Army court martials.

Administrative police and prison experience started in 1939, in 1945 and 1946 at Fort Devens, Mass., he was in charge of about 5,000 war prisoners of the German Army and S. S. Troops. In the Rome area during World War II he was in command of 450 American Military Police personnel in addition to a large force of regular Italian police and plain clothes police.

Service in the Counter Intelligence Corps began in Rome in 1947, and he served there and in Austria until his retirement in investigative work. This service necessitated a complete screening of his entire life by the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

As a judge he served on "court martials on everything from petty larceny to murder." There is a marked similarity between military and civilian law," Lassiter said, "the reason for that is that our military law was originally drawn up by civilian lawyers. Differences exist in technical points only."

Lassiter was born Jan. 4, 1908, in Dark County, Ohio, and spent most of his life in Michigan. He was educated in St. Louis, Michigan.

COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

The Highway Commission has made some changes in the specifications for "State Aid construction" this year. The required width is the same at 18 feet, the depth of gravel is increased to 18 inches.

Another change is in the fact that all culverts must be asphalt coated, both of these changes will of course decrease the distance that we will be able to build. Cost of the culverts for this job will be over $700.00.

We soon expect to lay a strip of sidewalk, and as the plans call for the curb to be made of the same material, we will appreciate the cooperation of all drivers in keeping back from this curb for a couple weeks to give the "hot top" a chance to set. The sidewalk itself will be all right almost at once.

Thanks.

MAJOR LASSITER NOMINATED TO COMPLETE SHERIFF TERM

On Wednesday Governor Cross nominated Major James Lassiter to complete the unexpired term of the late Clark C. Hunt of Norway at sheriff.

ASA H. SESSIONS

Funeral services for ASA H. Sessions were held Saturday, July 17, from the I. W. Andrews and Son funeral home. Rev. Roland Lord officiating.

Mr. Sessions was born in Woodstock, N. H., the son of Charles and Nancy Doughty Sessions, and spent his boyhood in that town.

He married Miss Stella E. Russ of Woodstock and they spent many years at the Seasons Homestead, later moving to Bethel for a few years, before going to Abbot's Mill, Rumford, where he conducted a lumber and mill business. Many hearts were saddened when they learned of his tragic death feeling that one had passed on whose place would be hard to fill especially in the community in which he lived, as he was one who never missed an opportunity to help a neighbor or friend. He was much interested in the young fellows in his employ helping them when discouraged, to never give up but to press on and make the best of their lives, making them feel he was like a real father to them.

He was of jovial disposition, always looking on the bright side, enjoying life to its uttermost each day.

He recently returned from a trip to Nova Scotia which he enjoyed immensely.

He was a member of Franklin Grange, Bryant Pond, for over fifty years making him a Gold Shield member.

He is survived by one brother, Charles I. Sessions of Providence, R. I., who is 92 years of age, besides several nieces and nephews.

MRS. WILLIAM F. WALKER

Mrs. Bernice Richardson Walker, whose death occurred at her home in Newry on Sunday, July 18, 1954, was born at Grafton, June 22, 1877, the daughter of the late James and Achas Taylor Richardson. In early life the family moved to Newry where Mrs. Walker spent the most of her life.

In early womanhood she went to Montana where she was employed as a dressmaker for a few years. Here on June 22, 1904, she married William F. Walker of Newry who settled in Montana during a trip to the Northwest. The couple returned to Newry where they have since made their home except for a few years spent at Rumford Point.

Mrs. Walker was of a retiring nature but coupled with her quiet unassuming manner was a personality. Rich in the appreciation of life itself, which enriched the lives of all who knew her.

Mrs. Walker's love for nature, so well manifested by her companionship with birds and flowers, was a source of joy and comfort throughout her simple, well-lived life.

Her first thought was of her home and family. To her husband she was a sympathetic, courageous and devoted helpmeet; to her daughter and grandchildren, she gave a sacrificial love which was reciprocated during her years of falling health.

Besides her husband she leaves a daughter, Mrs. Harold Brooks, who has tenderly cared for her during her last illness, three grandchildren, Mrs. Arlene Walker of Newry, and Harold Brooks Jr. of Jefferson, N. H., also seven great grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at the North Newry Church, John Andrews, officiating.

MISSIONARY DOCTOR TO SPEAK AT WEST BETHEL SERVICE SUNDAY EVENING

The public is invited to attend a special service of worship at the West Bethel Union Church at 8 o'clock Sunday evening. The speaker, Dr. Mary Floyd Cushman, practiced medicine and surgery for 29 years in Castine and Farmington. She was appointed to the State Board of Medical Registration by Governor Brewster, the first woman to hold such an office in any state.

In 1922, at the age of 52, she realized a life-long ambition by being appointed by the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions as a missionary doctor.

This work took her to Chilocho, Angola, Portuguese West Africa. There she founded a modern hospital and clinic, created many outpatient dispensaries and trained native dispensers of medicine, hygiene and surgery.

Retired by the board in 1941, she returned to this country, where she spent several months touring through 35 states, telling of her work in Africa. Dr. Cushman wrote a book entitled "Missionary Doctor," printed by Harper Bros., which was the story of 20 years service in Portuguese West Africa.

In 1946, she insisted on returning in the capacity of missionary doctor to her beloved Chilocho station, where she remained until 1953.

GEORGE BOISVERT

George Boisvert died Sunday July 18 at the home of Harold Stanley. He had been a resident of Bethel the past two years.

He was born at Lowell, Mass., Dec. 15, 1886.

There are no known survivors. Funeral services were held at Greenwood funeral home, Tuesday afternoon. Rev. Charles Pendleton officiating. Burial at Bethel.

EDITORIAL

Know Your Community--Your State

It would seem no more than fair to name July and August "The Kind to Travelers Months." Such a kindness would be especially appropriate for practices by those who live in a community such as ours.

Although because of local travel there may be towns showing higher traffic counts, it seems doubtful if there are many towns of Bethel's size that have a similar percentage of vacation travelers who find need of advice as to routes and road conditions.

Apparently there are altogether too many of us who are more or less ignorant of the troubles encountered by the vacation tourist. Fortunately the principally used approaches to Bethel village have been marked much better than before, but numerous motorists still lose their way.

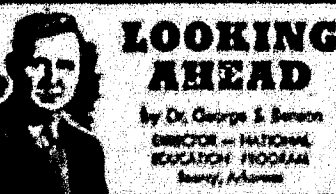

Bethel is situated on four numbered routes, which should simplify the process of giving instructions or suggestions. At present there are numbers of strange-ers from many states and provinces passing this way every day. Those arriving from the west via Route 2 may have had unhappy experience in the construction between Bethel and West Bethel. Let us assure them of better roads eastward.

The promise of rebuilding some two miles of Route 26 near South Bethel indicates a slow down which cannot be avoided later this season. Bridge rebuilding is beginning at Wild River and Pleasant River and later at Mill Brook.

Travelers won't like all this but it will soon be over and our highways will be better and we hope safer.

In the meantime let us give information correctly, plainly and cheerfully—or refer the unfortunate to a friendly service station or the local information center near the junction of Church and Railroad Streets.

Reduce This Payroll!

Many honorable men and women develop "blind spots" when they get elected to public office. Members of state legislatures and of Congress frequently fall victim of "payroll blindness," an occupational disease in government. Their integrity can be of the very highest order, and yet they will almost invariably close their eyes to reality when replying to taxpayers' demands for reductions in government spending.

The state legislator will usually say: "Asking for cuts in the budget is easy. Finding a place to apply cuts without crippling some vital service is difficult. Where would you suggest we cut?" The Congressman will usually say: "Finding a place to apply cuts without crippling some vital service is difficult. Most of the budget is for national defense. We're down to the bone elsewhere. Where would you suggest we cut?" The following official statistics on government employment holds forth a good answer to "Where would you suggest we cut?" The figures are from the U. S. Bureau of the Census, and they give the total number of civilian employees on the government payroll (federal, state, and federal).

Alabama, 124,035; Arizona, 130,000; Arkansas, 130,000; California, 130,000; Colorado, 130,000; Connecticut, 130,000; Delaware, 130,000; Florida, 130,000; Georgia, 130,000; Idaho, 130,000; Illinois, 130,000; Indiana, 130,000; Iowa, 130,000; Kansas, 130,000; Kentucky, 130,000; Louisiana, 130,000; Maine, 130,000; Maryland, 130,000; Massachusetts, 130,000; Michigan, 130,000; Minnesota, 130,000; Missouri, 130,000; Montana, 130,000; Nebraska, 130,000; Nevada, 130,000; New Hampshire, 130,000; New Jersey, 130,000; New Mexico, 130,000; New York, 130,000; North Carolina, 130,000; North Dakota, 130,000; Ohio, 130,000; Oklahoma, 130,000; Oregon, 130,000; Pennsylvania, 130,000; Rhode Island, 130,000; South Carolina, 130,000; South Dakota, 130,000; Tennessee, 130,000; Texas, 130,000; Utah, 130,000; Vermont, 130,000; Virginia, 130,000; Washington, 130,000; West Virginia, 130,000; Wisconsin, 130,000; Wyoming, 130,000.

West Point, Mass., Daily Times Leader: "We talk of billions as if our weekly pay checks were calculated in eight and nine figure numbers. From the county seat to the federal government itself we have become lost in a maze of financial that should stagger us, but mean little to us."

"Suppose the Government should confiscate all the income of everybody in the country who is taking in more than $50,000 a year in salary, profits or from whatever source. Such a drastic step would yield the U. S. Treasury less money than it would lose should Congress vote even a $100 increase in personal income tax exemptions."

DALE CARNEGIE

★ AUTHOR OF "HOW TO STOP WORRYING AND START LIVING" ★

WHEN Mrs. Nelva S. Purdon, 348 South Pacific, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, lost her husband, she was scared of the future. She was afraid she couldn't meet the competition of younger girls in the business world, afraid of the loneliness, afraid she would become a discontented, sour, crabby, old lady.

She realized it was up to her to overcome her fear. She must not sit and worry over the future; there was the present to consider. So she read all the inspirational things she could: the Bible, "How to Stop Worrying and Start Living," and Dr. Peale's book "Guide to Confident Living." She prayed. She had judgment enough to realize she had to control her thinking, and soon she found that the only way to do that was to keep busy.

She took a brush-up course in shorthand and typing and got a job. That was the first hurdle. Next she took some "hobby courses," dressmaking, china painting, millinery, and a course at Carnegie Tech for self-improvement. She took up bowling and golf, which she had never done before and she planned trips for the special days and holidays, working at keeping busy as she had never worked before.

As a result of her efforts, she says she is so busy now that her friends complain that they can never reach her. But she has less time to think of the past or worry over the future. She is living one day at a time, and has achieved some degree of peace of mind which she never thought possible three years ago.

Happenings That Affect the Future of Every Individual — National and International Problems Inseparable From Local Welfare

For some reason, the idea has been gaining wide currency that the Eisenhower legislative program has encountered extremely thorny going, and that only a relatively small part of it has any chance of becoming law. There seems to be more talk about the setbacks than about the accomplishments.

It was obvious from the beginning that no program so all-embracing as that laid down by the President at the start of his administration would be approved in its entirety. Some of the President's friends and followers are of the opinion that he made a mistake in asking so much. But, whether that is true or not, an objective look at the record shows many very important accomplishments.

Jay Hayden, a nationally syndicated columnist, recently discussed what has happened. "Eisenhower is approaching the end of his first full fiscal year in a remarkably strong position. It is not too much to say that Eisenhower's accomplishment in the field of economics adds up to a revolution: a swing toward industrial freedom and stability as Roosevelt's initial New Deal did in the opposite direction of socialistic government controls."

Mr. Hayden went on to describe a number of the major achievements. Some are highly controversial, of course, and many people will disagree with this wisdom. Regardless of that, the President wanted them and got them. Here is a partial list:

The Administration wiped out all price and wage controls. And it did this, as Mr. Hayden observes, "with no sign of inflation, wholesale strikes or other disturbances that were prophesied as resulting from that action."

Government military buying for military purposes has been reduced by $7,500,000,000 in a single fiscal year. Yet employment has been running at higher levels recently than was the case a year ago. In May, the number of employed reached a peacetime record.

Substantial reductions have been made in taxes, from which all individuals and enterprises will benefit in one way or another. Even so, the deficit will be two-thirds less than the Truman estimate.

Though the Senate and House agricultural committees voted down the Eisenhower flexible support proposals, and voted continuance of 90 per cent supports, a surprising number of Senators from farm states—including Iowa, Kansas, Idaho, Florida and New Mexico—supported the President. Here Mr. Hayden observes, "The avowed purpose of President Eisenhower to cut back farm price supports, hailed earlier as his greatest political danger, shows signs of becoming an election-day asset."

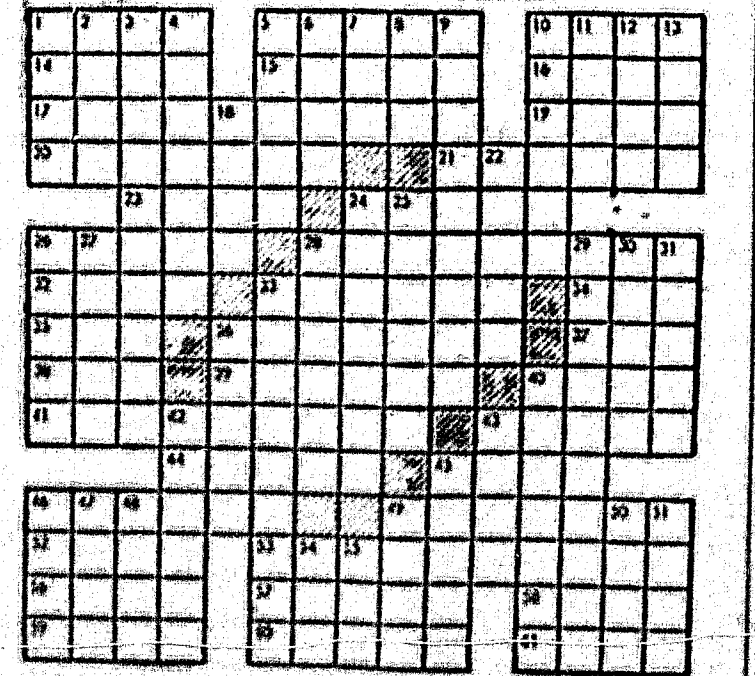

Other Eisenhower requests which have been approved include the St. Lawrence Seaway, which had been advocated by every President beginning with Harding without success. Increased social security benefits, a national defense bill differing in a number of important respects from prior ones, and extension for a year of the reciprocal trade plan.

That is the record of a stormy and eventful year. Few Presidents have obtained so much they wanted in so short a period.

Bellingham, Wash., Herald: "The National Editorial Association... has protested at its Baltimore convention against what it calls a 'significant' regulation that makes the mailman a delivery boy for handbills. A ruling permits local post offices to deliver pieces of mail addressed simply 'Boxholder, Route 1, Anywhere, U.S.A.'"

Everyone on the route receives a copy. As a result, mail boxes are jammed with unwanted advertising letters and pamphlets."

TOP TUNE ON CAPITOL HILL

SCANNING THE NEWS

IF PAST patterns hold good, approximately every fourth seat in the next Congress will be held by a member who wasn't there the previous session.

Long-familiar faces and often heard names give an illusion of permanence, but four factors combine each year to change the face of Congress: Death, in office, defeat at the polls, retirement and resignation. Together, these factors produce a Congress-to-Congress change of about 25 per cent.

In recent Congresses, deaths and decisions not to seek re-election have accounted for most of the turnover. In the past three biennial elections—1946, 1950 and 1952—an average of nearly 50 representatives and 10 Senators were defeated in bids for re-election in either primary or November races. An average of 30 House Members and five Senators whose terms had expired did not run again.

During the past five Congresses, an average of two Senators and seven Representatives resigned during their terms. Death has taken an average of 10 members of the House and five Senators during each Congress since the 79th.

Though more than a dozen lawmakers served their country for 40 years or more since the first Congress in 1789, most Congressmen are less permanent residents of Washington. Since the first Congressman, average tenure for a Representative has been about five years; for a Senator, about eight and a half years. But Representatives are elected for terms of two years, Senators for six.

HICKORY GROVE

As summer creeps up—and as it gets warmer and then hotter there on the banks of the turbulent Potomac—you can't tell what is going to happen next. Like it is with the glib and smooth gentleman off front at the side show with his a walnut shells and one pea. You think you know what the hobo is doing—but you glance away as instant and the pea is not there when you look again.

Now, I am not against congressmen as honest as the gentleman with the one pea and the three shells. It's just business with him—his skill versus your eye-sight and ego or sucker instinct. It is his business—nothing dishonest—but you can lose your shirt. Congress wants to make it look like it is "sweatin' blood and tears for us folks over 21 and registered. It vows it is on our side—wants to cut expenses till it hurts, and it does fairly well all through the session while everybody is looking and listening. But by July 4th, as if the heat taking hold and the shade of the home grounds beckoning, Mr. and Mrs. Citizen better not look away a second or when they look again, the economy cuts in the budget—where are they—altered again.

Moral: To keep 'em honest—and on your side—don't look away at the summer heat and tricky deficiency bills roll in.

Yours with the low down,

TODAY'S Meditation

THE WORLD'S MOST WIDELY USED DEVOTIONAL GUIDE

Thursday, July 22

Oh that my people would hearken unto me, that Israel would walk in my ways!...He would feed them...with the finest of the wheat. (Psalm 111:5, 16. A. S. V.)
Read Psalm 117:12-29 or Matthew 17:24-25.

In an Oklahoma town many visitors came to witness the destruction caused by a cyclone. Many people were killed, homes and other buildings destroyed. However, a grain elevator still stood. It towered high in the air.

Visitors inquired why the tall elevator should stand while buildings all around it were demolished. A keen observer disclosed the fact that the grain elevator was filled with wheat. Therefore, the air pressure did not push the walls of the elevator as it did in the case of the other buildings. Filled with wheat, the elevator had no air pressure from the inside.

If our lives are filled with faith, hope, and Christ-like love—"The finest of the wheat"—the pressures within us no longer exist. When storms come, we neither "blow up" nor "blow out." It is God's good pleasure so as to fill us that we shall stand when stresses come.

Prayer
O God, so fill us with Thy goodness and love today that we shall live lives filled with the best things. Use us as storage houses of Thy goodness. We thank Thee for the privilege of serving Thee. In our Saviour's name. Amen.

Thought for the Day
In Christ's strength we can stand. —Everett J. Vaughn (Kansas)

BETHEL DROPS CONTEST TO RUMFORD REDSKINS

On Sunday they are at Locke Mills for a 2:30 contest and next Monday night they entertain Andover at Thurston Field in a 6 o'clock makeup game. THREE QUARTER CENTURY CLUB AT AUGUSTA ARMORY

ON AUGUST 18

The second annual Oldsters' Hobby Show will be featured at the Maine Three Quarter Century Club meeting at the new Armory in Augusta, August 19. Products of the labors of members, all 75 years or older, will be on display throughout the day-long meeting.

Last year, over 120 oldsters showed displays of their handiwork at Lewiston. According to the Maine Publicity Bureau, sponsors of the Club, this was the largest single showing of its kind ever seen in Maine and this year an even larger exhibition is expected at Augusta.

Entries for the Hobby Show are limited to one per member and with the exception of live animals and food products any hobby or craftwork by club members will be accepted. Paintings, woodworking, needlecrafts and hooked and braided rugs.

comprised the bulk of the exhibits last year. Many of the members utilize their handiworks "just to keep busy" but others commercialize and realize additional income from the sale of the products of their labors.

In addition to the Hobby Show, a full day's program is being planned for this year's meeting with a speaking program in the morning followed by an afternoon of games and contests.

Members will bring their own box lunches and coffee is to be furnished by the Augusta Lions Club who are acting as hosts to this year's meeting. Member Lions of Multiple District 41 cooperate throughout the State in furnishing transportation for the old folks. Members requiring transportation to the Augusta meeting are urged to contact: Transportation Chairman, State of Maine Publicity Bureau, Gateway Circle, Portland, as soon as possible.

One of the few profitable Maine farm enterprises during the past two years has been egg production. Producers of potatoes, broilers, milk and blueberries are among those having their difficulties.

There is great beauty in going through life with anxiety or fear. Half our fears are baseless, and the other half discreditable.
